Jeff Kowatch

Born in California in 1965 – Lives and works in Belgium

Born in California in 1965, Jeff Kowatch has developed a colorist style of painting shaped by the great American abstractionists, from Mark Rothko to Brice Marden.

Based in Belgium for many years, he combines this American lineage with a technique inspired by the Flemish masters – Rembrandt in particular – whose linseed-oil-based methods he has made his own. These successive glazes lend his works a singular depth and transparency. The color seems to emanate from within the canvas, creating vibrant chromatic fields that are at once intense and contemplative, brought about by the tireless repetition of a movement close to meditative trance.

His works belong to the collections of the Royal Museums of Fine Arts of Belgium, the Long Beach Museum of Art, Long Beach, California, and the Laguna Art Museum, Laguna Beach, California.
